GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

At all times relevant to this Superseding Indictment:

The Racketeering Enterprise: The Aryan Brotherhood

1. The Aryan Brotherhood (the “AB”) is a criminal organization whose members and associates engaged in drug trafficking, theft, and acts involving murder, extortion, burglary, robbery, and assault.

2. The AB, including its leaders, members, and associates, constitutes an “enterprise,” as defined in Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1961(4) and 1959(b)(2) (“the enterprise”), that is, a group of individuals associated in fact that engages in, and the activities of which affect, interstate and foreign commerce. The enterprise constitutes an ongoing organization whose members function as a continuing unit for a common purpose of achieving the objectives of the enterprise.

3. The defendants, Kenneth JOHNSON, aka “K” aka “Kenwood”, Francis CLEMENT, aka “Frank”, [REDACTED] Kenneth BASH, aka “Kenny” aka “Bash”, and Derek SMITH, aka “Pup” knowingly agreed to associate with, and were each in fact a member or an associate of, the AB.

Formation

4. The Aryan Brotherhood is a white, race-based gang that was formed in the California prison system in about 1964 by white inmates who wanted to gain power and authority in prison. Some sources indicate the gang officially formed in 1968 in San Quentin State Prison.

Membership

5. AB members are recruited from the prison population. For new members, the AB has a policy of ‘blood in, blood out’: potential members must commit a murder to gain full membership, and can only leave when they die. However, exceptions have been made for new recruits who have shown a willingness to kill. Recently, there has also been precedent set for prospective members who have a greater earning potential or existing sum of money to contribute to the enterprise, to be “made” without committing a murder.

6. To be considered for AB membership, an inmate must be sponsored by two members, a primary and a secondary sponsor. Generally, the inmate must also serve a probationary term, when his conduct is observed by Aryan Brotherhood members. If his conduct is satisfactory, the inmate is admitted to the Aryan Brotherhood. Once accepted, an Aryan Brotherhood member is required to

1 commit any criminal act that the enterprise asks of him. An AB member pledges his life to the 2 enterprise. All AB members are men.

3 Command Structure

4 7. The AB is governed by a three-man commission with authority over the entire enterprise.
5 The primary purpose of the commission is to resolve disputes among AB members and, when necessary,
6 to approve the murder or assault of an Aryan Brotherhood member. The murder or assault of an Aryan
7 Brotherhood member in California may be executed only if the commission authorizes it. Murder of a
8 nonmember does not require commission approval. Certain senior members of the organization have 9 more authority than others.

10 Codes of Conduct

11 8. The AB does not have a formal, written code of conduct. Instead, there are unwritten
12 rules of conduct that govern the behavior of its members. Most recently, three primary rules govern all 13 the behavior of AB members. They are:

- 14 1. Do not cooperate with law enforcement.
15 2. Keep your word.
16 3. Never be a coward.

17 9. Aside from these rules, AB members are required, when ordered, to kill without 18 hesitation.

19 10. Members who do not fulfill their obligations to the AB are subject to murder. AB
20 members are also prohibited from engaging in other conduct, such as being convicted of child
21 molestation, engaging in homosexual behavior, providing information to law enforcement and accruing
22 a drug debt to an inmate of another race while in prison.

23 11. In addition to members, the enterprise includes associates, who are people closely
24 affiliated with the AB. Associates are required to follow the orders of Aryan Brotherhood members.
25 Associates who do not fulfill their obligations to the enterprise are subject to murder.

26 12. The AB enforces its rules of conduct and promotes discipline among the enterprise by 27 acts involving murder, extortion, and threatening those who either violate the rules or pose a threat to the 28 enterprise. The AB also uses murder, the threat of murder, and assault to preserve, protect, and expand its position of power within the California prison system. Specifically, AB members believe that a prison stabbing committed by an AB member should be executed in a bloody and cruel manner so that it leaves a lasting impression on other inmates. This AB belief stems from the reality that white inmates are a minority in every California prison. Therefore, AB-ordered prison attacks, which tend to stand out as particularly gruesome, deter rival inmates from confronting the enterprise's members and associates. In other words, the AB's extreme violence has a purpose: It warns other would-be attackers that they risk severe retaliation.

13. Inmates and others who do not follow the orders of the AB are subject to retaliation, including physical assault or murder, as is anyone who uses violence against an AB member. Inmates who cooperate with law enforcement authorities are "put in the hat" – that is, marked for death.

Purposes of the Enterprise

14. The purposes of the AB include, but are not limited to, the following:

- a. Controlling illegal activities – such as drug trafficking, gambling, and extortion – within the California prison system for the purpose of generating money for AB members.
- b. Enriching the leaders, members, and associates of the enterprise through, among other things, illegal trafficking of controlled substances.
- c. Preserving, protecting, and expanding the power, territory, reputation, and profits of the AB through intimidation, violence, threats, assault, obstruction of justice, robbery, extortion, and murder.
- d. Using threats and violence to keep victims in fear of the AB.

Methods and Means used by the AB

15. The means and methods by which AB leaders, members, and associates conduct and participate in the conduct of the affairs of the enterprise include the following:

- a. The leaders and members of the AB direct, sanction, approve, and permit other members and associates to carry out criminal acts in furtherance of the enterprise.
- b. To generate income, AB members and associates, under the protection of the enterprise, engage in illegal activities, including drug trafficking, theft, robbery, and extortion.

c. AB members and associates use gang-related terminology, symbols, phrases, and gestures to demonstrate affiliation with the gang.

d. To perpetuate the enterprise and to maintain and extend its power, AB members and associates commit and conspire to commit acts of murder, intimidation, and assault against individuals who pose a threat to the enterprise or who jeopardize its operations. These targets include members of rival organizations, AB members and associates, and witnesses to the enterprise's illegal activities.

Symbols

16. AB members use various symbols to signal their participation in the enterprise. The symbols can appear in tattoos, drawings, and writings. The shamrock is the most prominent symbol used to signify membership in the AB. If an incarcerated inmate who is not a member of the enterprise has a shamrock tattoo, members of the AB will require that inmate to remove or cover up the tattoo. Additional symbols demonstrating membership in the AB include Nazi symbols, the letters "AB," the numbers "I" and "II" (representing the first two letters of the alphabet), the numbers "666," the number "88" (representing the phrase "Heil Hitler" because "H" is the eighth letter in the alphabet), and the number "14" (referring to a 14-word mission statement for white supremacists).
